

Do Wind Projects Adversely Affect Proximate Residential Property Values?

The most basic law of economics is that things are valued based on the “Law of Supply and Demand.” It is exceedingly obvious, all things being equal, that many people (due to view, sound, flicker, etc) would choose NOT to buy a home where there are industrial wind turbines close by. (Whether they are right or wrong in their reasons is irrelevant.)

These beliefs would reduce demand, which clearly would have some negative impact on the price of such a property. Any report that concludes that there are zero negative property value effects related to wind projects simply can not be considered seriously. The only real question is how much of an impact?

This list is intended to identify just some of the more objective studies and commentary about the adverse effects of wind energy projects on home values near wind projects.

1 - Here are some more detailed analyses about wind project effects on property values, by independent professionals:

4 - Here are some sample Property Value Guarantee agreements:

Note that despite the wind energy proponent’s continued claims that their projects have no adverse effects on property values, Iberdrola officially told this NNY community that they would not construct a project there if they were required to compensate land owners for property value losses. Most people would see that as being very hypocritical.

In my view this brings up a KEY point. Wind developers often get approval based on specious claims (regarding jobs created, CO2 saved, etc.). They get away with this as there is no real penalty for exaggerations or stretching the truth. One of the best ways to counter this is to require that all these claims be legally guaranteed, in writing. Just like what happened in the above case, you will see an immediate back-tracking. This will reveal to citizens the accuracy and sincerity of the developer’s assertions.

The Carteret County (NC) Tall Structure Ordinance includes an excellent property value guarantee. This was passed in February of 2014.

The Town of Newport (NC) also has a similar property value guarantee that was included in their wind law (Article IX), in late 2013.

6 - Some Other Options:

In my view we should be piggybacking on ideas currently being employed by environmental groups to stop hydrofracking. Here is an example: Sue Your Neighbor. Make sure to look at the part about an “anticipatory nuisance.” Constructive condemnation is another possibility, but appears to be a subset of the “anticipatory nuisance” legal definition.

Here is a relevant case where a Canadian homeowner sued to have his property assessment lowered due to nearby noise from a power station. He won the lawsuit and received a significant reduction.
